

Amy Dunnill

Artist | Designer

I am currently in my final year at Leeds College of Art, studying BA (Hons) Fine Art.

Specialising in drawing, my practice explores ideas surrounding the home and domestic spaces. Combining the ideas of design with art allows me to tamper with the functionality of objects, discuss relationships through composition and invite human interaction into curated, yet familiar spaces.

Based in Saltaire, my creative development outside of my degree involves producing a visual journal, print-making and designing for digital print.
